News

- Jean-Claude Vatin was the director of CEDEJ from 1984 to 1992. In addition to this position, which he truly embodied, he was also a researcher who left his mark on us with several dozen publications on Egypt and the Arab world.
A text of homage written by Jean-Robert Henry and Bernard Botiveau was produced by IREMAM following his recent death and we share it here.
Among his publications, let us mention the introduction to the famous book Musique arabe. Le congrès du Caire de 1932 that CEDEJ now offers to its readers in digital version.
- The CEDEJ-IFAO field scholarship was awarded this year to two laureates. Kawkab Tawfiq, PhD in cultural heritage and ethnomusicology at the University of Rome, for her project on the practice of zar in Egypt and Noha Roushdy, PhD in sociology at Boston University, for her project on international education in Egypt.
- We are also pleased to welcome Sandra Rashid, a student in Master 2 Multilingual Information System, Linguistic Engineering and Translation (SIMIL-TRA) at the University of Lyon 2. She is doing internship at the Digital Humanities department as part of the collaborative program between CEDEJ and CAPMAS "Cartographic and interactive portal of Egyptian censuses (1882-2017)".

Open access ressources

In the current health context, you can continue to rely on CEDEJ's open access digital platforms (journals, books, maps, press clippings):

- Research portal presenting 1.5 million press clippings from 24 Egyptian newspapers classified and archived by CEDEJ from 1970 to 2010.
- Search portal for Egyptian press caricatures over 40 years (1970 à 2010).
- Portal of the digital map of drylands, en libre accès. This open-access web portal offers interactive aridity mapping that allows the creation of maps at different scales, with real-time calculation of aridity data.
- Online journal Égypte Monde Arabe, the social science journal of the CEDEJ since 1990. It is intended for students and researchers as well as for the general public who want to understand the changes that are taking place in the contemporary Middle East and in Egypt. The issues are freely available here, or via Cairn.
- Thirty six CEDEJ books are available on open editions here.
- Maps: all the digitized maps of the CEDEJ are also accessible. To receive them, you can submit your requests via the form to be downloaded online here.
